Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice and Criminology (4 positions) — Search # 67786
College of Behavioral and Social Sciences/Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology

The Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for four (4) available tenure-track assistant professor positions. The home campus for these positions will be the Armstrong or Statesboro campus depending on specialization. Please see the positions description below.

Georgia Southern University is a distinctive combination of Southern charm and uncompromising academics. We are a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution serving about 26,500 students through nine colleges on three beautiful oak-lined campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville, and via a growing online program. Throughout its degree offerings at the associate’s, bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern cultivates community collaboration, world-class scholarship and hands-on learning opportunities.

Georgia Southern University was founded in 1906 as a school for teaching modern agricultural production techniques and homemaking skills to rural school children. Its Savannah campus was established in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College for local youth who could not afford to attend college away from home. The Liberty Center in Hinesville was established in 1998 to serve the military and their families at nearby Fort Stewart, the largest military base east of the Mississippi. All three locations came together in 2018 when Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University consolidated. The “new” Georgia Southern University preserves a passion for serving its neighbors while preparing students for lifelong service as scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities.

Believing that diversity, equity, and inclusion contribute to excellence in the workplace and to the quality of the University’s academic environment, Georgia Southern University is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff to support, promote, and serve a diverse student body and promote Inclusive Excellence. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, whose work furthers the institution’s Inclusive Excellence goals and who bring to campus varied life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply.

Within this setting, the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology provides a comprehensive examination of justice, crime, victimization, and the law. The program offers both an in-person and fully online Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Criminal Justice and Criminology that enrolls approximately 800 students across all campuses and a minor with 175 students. The department also houses an in-person and online Master of Science (MS) program in Criminal Justice and Criminology with concentrations in criminal justice/criminology and cybercrime. In addition, the Department offers an online Graduate Certificate in Cybercrime. The successful candidates are expected to contribute to either our criminal justice and cybercrime focus on our Armstrong campus or our victimology focus on the Statesboro campus.

Positions Description. Reporting to the Department Chair, the assistant professor positions require teaching, research, and service. The positions are 10-month tenure-track appointments, and the salaries are competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. For the Armstrong campus, we are searching for three (3) positions with specialties in cybercrime, policing, corrections, criminology, and victimology with a specialization on violence. For the Statesboro campus, we are searching for one (1) position with specializations in victimology and violence.

Required Qualifications:
- Earned doctorate in Criminal Justice or Criminology, or a closely related field relevant to the specialization areas being sought, by August 1, 2021.
- Commitment to inclusive excellence, including, but not limited to: creating an equitable and inclusive environment for students, staff, and colleagues; increasing representation of diverse students, faculty, staff and community partners at all levels of the University; facilitating access to achievement, success and recognition of underrepresented students, colleagues, staff and alumni; and implementing strong, genuine, and consistently communicated culturally inclusive practices that reinforce the Inclusive Excellent Action Plan of the University.
- Commitment to research and scholarly engagement.
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives.
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development.
- Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution.

Preferred Qualifications:

Armstrong Campus
- Candidates who specialize on topics related to cybercrime (e.g., hacking, online fraud, cyberstalking, image-based sexual abuse, online child sexual exploitation) are strongly encouraged to apply.
- The Department also has critical needs in: Policing, corrections, victimology, criminology, and research methods/statistics.
- College or university teaching experience (part-time experience is permissible).
- Active research agenda and willingness to engage in funded and applied research.

Statesboro Campus:
- Candidates who specialize in victimology and violence (e.g., intimate partner violence, family violence, violence against women, school violence, etc.) are strongly encouraged to apply.
- College or university teaching experience (part-time experience is permissible).
- Active research agenda and willingness to engage in funded and applied research.

Screening of applications begins January 4th, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2021. To equitably serve a fast growing and highly diverse student body and to fulfill the University’s commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion, we actively seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to Pillar 3 of our University Strategic Plan: Inclusive Excellence.

A complete application consists of: (1) a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; (2) a curriculum vitae; and (3) the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least three professional references. In addition, applicants are required to submit an Inclusive Excellence statement (2 pages). In the Inclusive Excellence statement, applicants should reflect on their experience, vision, and commitment regarding teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds and discuss past, current, and future contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the areas of research, teaching, service, and outreach. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications submitted electronically will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation. Applications and nominations should be sent to:
