The School of Human Ecology in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of visiting instructor of Recreation (#12044), with primary teaching responsibilities in the area of recreational therapy. This position is located on the Statesboro campus.

At Georgia Southern, visiting instructors normally teach fifteen credit hours per semester, hold regular office hours, and participate in school meetings and activities. Collegiality is essential. All visiting positions are non-tenure track, academic-year (9/10 month) appointments. Appointments are for one year only, although there is the possibility of reappointment contingent upon funding and satisfactory performance. The second year would be a terminal year, without exception.

Required Qualifications:
- Earned master’s or doctoral degree in Recreation or a closely related field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in Recreation courses by August 1, 2020.
- Certification as a CTRS through the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification (NCTRC) for a minimum of one year (by August 1, 2020).
- Commitment to teaching that is consistent with the College’s priorities for the School and the mission of the University.
- Commitment to work in a diverse academic and professional community.
- Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution.

Preferred Qualifications:
- A minimum of one year of college/university teaching experience in recreational therapy, recreation, or a closely related field.
- Full-time work experience in recreational therapy.
- Experience with the development and delivery of academic courses in both online and traditional formats.
- Experience advising students and supervising interns.

We will begin screening applications as they are received. The position starts on August 1, 2020. A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above, including a verifiable statement regarding authorization to work, unassisted, in the US; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least three professional references.
