Statesboro High School Parent Athletic Advisory Board

parent representative and board member, July 2016 – present

→ represent cross-country and track programs

→ while I serve as a parent voice on this board, I also see an important overlap with my research and teaching interests that focus on social inequalities in sport, including Title IX issues and issues of race and social class; this advisory board was started in part because of perceived inequality in resource allocation among sports (e.g., the largely non-white, lower-income members of the track team seemed to have less institutional support than other athletic programs at the school); I view my role on this board as advocating for youth athletes
